

Students Hear of Football Agenda

• THE 1955 FOOTBALL schedule, recently released by the athletic department, shows one game at Griffith Stadium, against West Virginia on Friday, November 4.

The West Virginia game is to be the Colonials' homecoming game. Mr. Max Farrington, former director of athletics at the University, told this reporter that the University is negotiating with Virginia Polytechnic Institute to have the V.P.I. game changed from Blacksburg, Va., to Washington. According to assistant athletic director Prof. Bill Myers, the chances of V.P.I. playing the University here are slim at present.

Mr. Farrington also stressed that the Maryland game, to be played at College Park, is officially "our home game." The seating will be handled by the University and student books and Boosters books will be honored at Maryland's Byrd Stadium.

In going down the schedule game by game, Mr. Farrington pointed out that the University of Florida is playing the Colonials on a "two-for-one" basis. That is, the Gators will play the University away this season and next and they will come to Washington in 1957, under the current agreement.

U. Va. Wants Crowd

The former director of athletics mentioned that the University of Virginia does not want to play the Buff in Washington since the game would be played at George Washington High School in Alexandria (the Washington Senators have Griffith Stadium for the October 1 date), and the crowd at the 1953 Virginia game, also in Alexandria, was extremely poor.

Referring to the William and Mary game, to be played November 22 in Williamsburg, Mr. Farrington told the HATCHET that William and Mary would not play the University in Washington, as their schedule shows only three home games, the Colonials included. Also, the University's contract with the Indians is on a home-and-home basis and last year's (See FOOTBALL, page 3)

Council Wants New Petitions For Boosters

• PETITIONING for membership on the 1955-56 Colonial Boosters Board and Staff will begin today and continue until 5 p.m. on Friday, March 25.

During the week of March 28 through April 1 brief interviews will be held with applicants before final choices are made.

The Board is composed of a chairman and nine members, each of whom has three assistants. The members of the Board and their assistants comprise the Staff.

Members of the staff have first priority for Board positions the following year, while the chairman of the Board must have served one year on the Board.

Positions are available as chairman and members of the following committees: secretary, treasurer, publicity, pep rally, membership, special projects, transportation, Booster section, and entertainment.

Petitions also will be accepted for the positions of the University's nationally famous mascots, George and Martha. Since the final selections will be secret until they are publicly announced at the end of the football season, the names of all applicants will be carefully guarded. Private interviews will be held with all the candidates. The two positions may be filled by two boys, two girls, or a boy and a girl.

At the end of the year each mascot is presented with an appropriately inscribed gold cigarette case or compact.

Sororities Practice Hard For Nearing Panhel Sing

• THE ANNUAL Panhellenic Sing, culminating four weeks of continuous practice, will be presented tomorrow night at 8:30 in Lisner Auditorium.

The nine sororities competing will sing one of their own choice and one sorority song. In order of appearance, they are: Pi Beta Phi, "Basin Street Blues" and "Come and Follow the Arrow," directed by Sally Ricci; Kappa Alpha Theta, "Lover" and "Theta Lips," directed by Mary Metzel; Kappa Kappa Gamma, "Hi Lili" and "Kappa Medley," directed by Loydell Jones.

Keynote Talk Gives Students Inspiration

• "THE ONLY PRACTICALITY you will experience in your lifetime is the practicality of an ideal," Senator Wayne Morse said last Wednesday night in his keynote speech delivered at the 1955 Career Conference.

Speaking on "The Ideals of Representative Government," Senator Morse emphasized that we should not compromise our ideals. While urging young people to enter the field of politics, the Senator said a person must enter this area only if he is not afraid to lose. Losing an election through standing for one's ideals is far better than winning by compromising with expediency.

Commenting on the state of national politics, Morse said that in the cloakrooms of the Senate one finds each senator thinking and speaking as his conscience dictates. When an issue comes up for a vote, however, stronger political motives take the place of ideals and the congressmen often vote on a strict partisan basis. "An elected representative of government should keep faith with his gift from Providence, conscience."

Outlining the tenets of his foreign policy to an estimated crowd of 950 persons in Lisner Auditorium, Senator Morse enumerated three basic points: first, this country must have adequate defense for protection against aggression, and the people must expect heavy expenditures for this defense.

Second, the United States must export "enlightened capitalism" consisting of agricultural and technical aid as well as military aid. The economic strength of the world's backward nations must be bolstered before the individual will have freedom of political choice.

Third, the United States must remain first in the race for leadership, challenging the Communists in settling international disputes. Speaking with particular emphasis on the Formosan situation, the Senator said that "we will leave a sad judgment on the heads of future generations if we don't keep our foreign policy within the framework of international justice."

Preceding Senator Morse's keynote address, co-chairmen of the Conference, Sue Scott and Bob Riggs and President of the Student Council Tom Brown welcomed the audience and encouraged its participation in the twenty forums which followed the Senator's speech.

Of the three new forums added this year, "two were extremely well-attended, those in Geography and Languages," said Bob Riggs. "Our experiment in the Armed Forces was not so successful. The attendance there was negligible."

Also Chi Omega, "Our Love is Here to Stay" and "Chi-O Medley," directed by Pat Reed; Kappa Delta, "What is This Thing Called Love?" and "I Know Just Where I'm Going," directed by Ann Sorrell; Zeta Tau Alpha, "Love Walked In" and "Pride of Our Hearts," directed by Lorna Ridyard; Alpha Delta Pi, "Joshua Fit de Battle of Jerico" and "Hymn of Alpha Delta Pi," directed by Caroline Jernigan.

Also, Delta Gamma, "Galway Bay" and "Dream 'Girl," directed by Ann Bageant; Sigma Kappa, "It Ain't Necessarily So" and "Sigma Kappa Serenade," directed by Roma Knee. Delta Zeta Sorority has been in charge of all the publicity concerning the Sing and Phi Sigma Sigma girls will act as ushers.

Judges for the contest, selected by vote of the Panhellenic Council from lists submitted by each sorority are: Nancy Poore Tufts, Western Presbyterian Church; Harman Nicodemus, Western High School; and Steve Prussing, New York Avenue Presbyterian Church. Master of Ceremonies for the event is Howie Roberts, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council.

Morris Babb Wins 1955 'Apollo' Crown From Field of Twenty-Four

• MORRIS BABB of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity was crowned Apollo last Saturday night to climax the Hillel Foundation's tenth annual "Ball of Fire" dance.

The crowning of the 1955 version of the manliest man on campus came only after judges Vincent DeAngelis, director of Intramural Activities; Beverly Alexander, the University's Homecoming Queen, and Herb Davis of radio station WEAM spent long, tense minutes considering each of the twenty-four candidates on the basis of looks, physique, personality and "manliness."

After long deliberation, the judges called the names of nine candidates for the semi-final judging. The finalists and their sponsoring organizations were: Joe Stevens, Chi Omega; Bernie Kovach, Gate and Key; Vern Yates, Sigma Chi; Morris Babb, Pi Kappa Alpha; Alvin Miller, Phi Sigma Sigma; Howard Frushtick, Phi Alpha; Stan Walowac, Welling Hall; Bob Cantrell, Sigma Nu; and Joe Hince, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Then, as everyone present held his breath, the three top candidates, Joe Stevens, Vern Yates and Morris Babb, were called up and it was announced that Mr. Babb was the winner. The new Apollo was given a silver crown by Miss Alexander and a trophy. The dance this year was held in the Terrace Room of the National Airport from 10 to 1. Lee Maxfield's orchestra played for an overflow crowd of some 170 couples who packed the dance floor at all times.

Hillel's social chairman and the evening's Mistress of Ceremonies, Rosa Weiner, pronounced the evening an unqualified success.

'Big Sis' Gets New Officers

• "BIG SIS" officers were appointed last Sunday after interviews conducted by Mortar Board at Woodhull House.

The new president of the organization which assists incoming women students is Sue Haynes. Barbara Wolin is first vice-president and Roslyn Hauk second vice-president.

Other officers are: Vera Allen, secretary-treasurer; Ann Johnson, registrar; Rosa Weiner, membership; Mary Metzel, social chairman; and Frances Bran, corresponding secretary, and Ellen Raley, publicity chairman.

Watkins Urges Reforms In Speech Before S.B.A.

• SENATOR ARTHUR V. Watkins of Utah, in a speech before the Student Bar Association at Lisner Auditorium on March 7, stated that reforms are needed in the rules of Congressional Investigating Committees.

Best known for his role as chairman of the Select Committee to study censure charges against Senator McCarthy, Senator Watkins declined to discuss the McCarthy censure hearings other than to comment on procedural matters.

The Senator outlined two reforms he believes to be necessary. "At least two members of a committee which violate rules would "put some teeth" into enforcing such rules as might be set up.

When questioned on the advisability of televising hearings, Senator Watkins stated that although there is some merit in televised hearings, he thought it inadvisable because of the effect of the television cameras on some witnesses and the impossibility of televising all hearings.

Senator Watkins was introduced by Dean John T. Fey of the University Law School. The Senator, who came to the United States Senate in 1946 after 14 years in private life as an authority on public works, was particularly interesting to law students because of his legal background.

He attended Brigham Young University, where he played basketball, and New York University. He received his LL.B. degree from the Columbia University.

Senator Watkins served as Assistant County Attorney of Salt Lake County and as Fourth Judicial District Judge of Utah. In his varied career, he has also done considerable welfare work among the Indians.

Union Gives 'Hare Hop'

• THE "IRISH hare hop" will be held in the Student Club, second floor of the Union, on St. Patrick's Day, March 17, at 12:30 p.m.

Mr. Peter O'Lapin, a real "live" Irish rabbit, will lead the bunny hop and preside over the dance. He has just arrived from Eire, the "old country," for the occasion, according to Lucy Anstine, chairman of the Student Union.

The music for dancing will be provided by the Chick Wayne Trio. Entertainment will be presented by the University's singing "Fandels Gals" from the Troubadours.

The Student Union Board will be happy to know of any groups on campus which are not presently represented by their own banners. The Board will also gladly display any banner of a student's "favorite" group.

The Union Board and the Student Council, sponsoring organizations, hope to make the Student Club a true "club" and have cordially invited all students to attend this Thursday's dance.

There's even more to Chevrolet styling than meets the eye!

This is beauty with a bonus . . . for Chevrolet styling is designed to add safety and comfort while you drive, and to return greater value when you trade.

Truly modern lines are shaped by usefulness. You can see what we mean in the deep crystal curve of Chevrolet's Sweep-Sight windshield . . . a dramatic style note, certainly, but one that stems from the need for wider, safer vision. Or take high-set taillights—they add to the impressive length of line . . . but they are up where they can be seen for safety's sake.

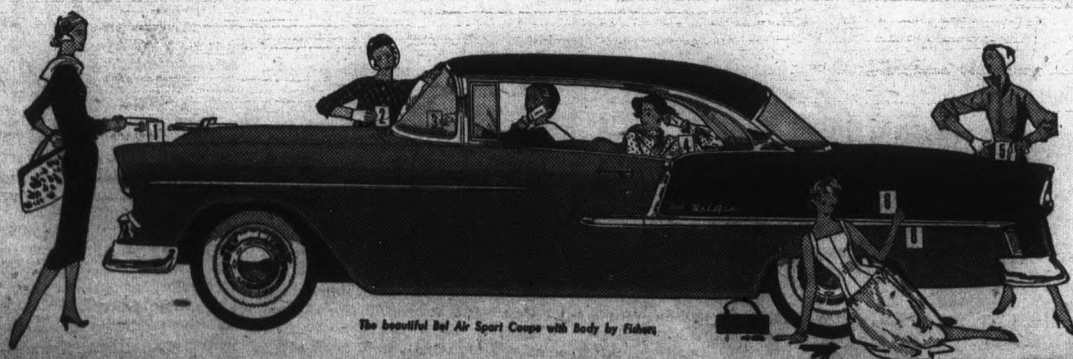

The smart louvers across the hood aren't just decoration . . . they mark the intake for the High-Level ventilation system for cleaner, fresher air. And the whole shape of the body—its lowness, the dipped belt line—is merely a reflection of a lowered center of gravity, the added stability.

This is truly functional styling that serves you better every mile, and preserves its value against the distant day when you trade. This is Body by Fisher—another Chevrolet exclusive in the low-price field. Come in and let us demonstrate that this new Chevrolet is just as exciting to drive as to look at!

Dancers Rush Plans for Annual Spring Program

PRaised AS HAVING "a good record for programs of imagination and emotional variety" by Washington Post critic Paul Hume, the Dance Production Groups are now planning their annual concert to be presented March 25 and 26.

Under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Burtner, this year's program is expected to be even more entertaining than the twelve of preceding years. Assisting Miss Burtner are Evelyn Lohofer and Tom Pence, part-time teacher in dance. Among the pianist-composers for the production are Mrs. Lohofer and Ann Clague. All three dance groups will participate.

During the entire year the choreography, which is a result of the collaboration of directors and students, has been worked on and ideas for dances have been discussed. Among the dances to be presented are "Men and Women" and "Crazy Pants and Pony Tails."

Dancer's Dance

"Beatrice the Ballerina," featuring Verlyn Brown, is the story of a stagestruck dancer who yearns to see her name in neon lights.

The many dancers, majoring in everything from home economics to foreign affairs, are as colorful as the imaginative dances they perform. Tom Pence, assistant in dance, has appeared several times in Carter Barron presentations; Lillemore Spitzer did the choreography for "The Queen's Conscience;" Milica Hasalova was a finalist in last year's "Miss Washington" contest; and Phyllis Allen recently returned from the University of Utah, where she studied dance. Other outstanding dancers are George Moser, Charlotte Michelson, John Kane; Vernon Elder, Kitty Lee Landess, Virgilia Dabell and Loydell Jones.

Students Rehearse

Rehearsals are now in progress for the more than fifty students who will appear in the performance.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained at the Lisner Auditorium box office or in the Book Store below.

will tap new members. Panhellenic Council President Pat Reed will award scholarship cups to the sorority and the upper-class pledge with the highest scholastic average and Junior Panhellenic President Ann Pittman will present the scholarship cups to the outstanding pledge group and underclass pledge.

Awards for the Sing include cups for first, second and third places and a cup for the outstanding director. At times in the past this has been awarded to the director of the group winning the Sing, but this is not always true.

The Panhellenic Sing has been an annual admittance-free event at the University since 1940, with the exception of a few years during World War II. Each group is limited to twenty girls and a director. The same stage set is used by all. However, the costumes are left to the discretion of each sorority.

ROTC Gives Girls Course

THE UNIVERSITY Air Force ROTC is now planning a program for ladies, particularly prospective service wives, to be held some afternoon in May.

This program, which is planned to familiarize the ladies with the Air Force and to assist in answering questions they might have on the military service as wives, is part of a national trend in ROTC programs. The University plan coincides with a more extensive program at Maryland University. A great deal of publicity was given these programs last year in the Saturday Evening Post.

The University's program, however, will not include such things as setting tables but will consist of a question and answer session and will take place during the phase of cadet training including "Briefing for Commissioned Service," which will be given from May 9 to the eighteenth. Questions will be submitted by the ladies themselves, who will be invited by cadets.

A cadet committee headed by Cadet Major Ivan W. Fitzwater, assisted by Cadet Captains George W. Egan, Jr., and Joseph P. Nichols is preparing the program with the help of Major DeLano of the AFROTC staff. The Flying Sponsors will assist with the refreshments.

If the program is successful, Major DeLano hopes to make it a permanent part of cadet training.

game was played in Washington. This latter principle also applies to the games with Virginia Military Institute and the University of Richmond.

Student Protest

The HATCHET was unable to learn just why the Maryland game, officially a University home game, is being played at College Park. Mr. Farrington stated that the student body could protest this action.

As for the Pennsylvania game, at Philadelphia this year as it was last, the information is that the University of Pennsylvania, still paying mortgages on its tremendous Franklin Field, had to play as many home games as possible. They play eight games in Philadelphia this fall. (See sports page for complete Buff schedule.)

Student Petition for Five Chairmanships

PETITIONS FOR various committees in the University this year and next are still being accepted in the Student Activities Office, according to Ed Jaffee, chairman of the Student Council petitions committee.

Of immediate interest to the Council are petitions for chairman of, or membership on the student enrollment committee, but petitions for Career Conference and Homecoming Committees, as well as the Campus Combo and Student Handbook Committees are also being accepted and all petitions will be closed this Thursday.

Few Applicants

A total of only fourteen people have applied for the five offices so far, and Council President Tom Brown says there is a lot of room yet for additional applicants.

Requirements for student enrollment committee have been split into two sections, headed "absolute requirements" and "strongly recommended." Under the former are the following: Students must have at least a 2.0 overall QPI, and students must carry a minimum of six credit hours. Under "strongly recommended," the Council prints out that a long list of previous activities does not necessarily guarantee favorable action on a petition, and adds that there is a good chance of one male and one female being appointed as co-chairmen.

male being appointed as co-chairmen.

Purpose Stressed

Mr. Jaffee stressed, with regard to the student enrollment committee, that the purpose of this group is to promote larger enrollment at the University while allowing greater selectivity of new students. He added that within two or three years the increased enrollment should take a lot of the burden off the student leaders, many of whom are now pressed into holding four or five important campus offices.

The program for student enrollment was first presented to the Council by Mrs. Phyllis Ames Willford.

Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. ## Vicious Circle

• IT WOULD SEEM that the athletic department's recently-released 1955 football schedule is grossly unfair to University students. The schedule shows exactly one game being played in the Colonials' "home" park, Griffith Stadium. That game, against West Virginia on November 4, will have to be the Homecoming Game, Dads' Day, Seniors' Day and practically anything else you can think of wrapped into one.

In fairness to the schedule-makers, three points should be brought out. First, we all realize that it takes more than one school to make up a football schedule. Second, efforts are now being made to have the Virginia Polytechnic Institute game changed from Blacksburg to Washington, and third, in the case of three teams on the 1955 schedule, nothing could be done about having them play here, since they are each on the second year of a "home-and-home" contract.

Unfortunately, there is nothing else we can say in favor of the schedule. All we ask is that we be allowed to see our team in action four or five times a year. This is certainly a fair request. A vicious circle has arisen with regards to this request, however. When the HATCHET approached the athletic department on this issue, we were informed, in effect, that when the students start showing some school spirit we will get more home games. We submit that it is almost impossible to generate any spirit for a team when we have to travel hundreds of miles to see them play.

Going down the schedule game-by-game, we can discount William and Mary, Richmond and Virginia Military Institute from any possibility of playing in Washington this year. Each of these teams is playing the University on the previously-mentioned "home-and-home" basis, and each played in Washington last year.

With these games out of the way, we turn to the University of Virginia. Virginia has refused to play the Colonials in Washington because they feel that the crowd was poor when they played here in 1953. Let us remember that this game is not being played for the sake of the Gentlemen from Charlottesville alone.

The same applies to the University of Pennsylvania. Penn plays eight games this year in its spacious Franklin Field, and only one on the road. The reason? Penn is still paying mortgages on its field, and needs as many home games as possible. The HATCHET does not feel that this is sufficient reason for depriving the University students of the chance to see their team play an Ivy League team, one they played in Philadelphia last year.

As for the University of Florida, the word is that the Gators are willing to play the University on a "two-for-one" basis. This means that Florida will play the Buff away this season and next, and will oblige by coming to the Nation's Capital in 1957. How nice of them. It would seem that the athletic department could realize that the Florida football team is not at all akin to the North Carolina State basketball powerhouse, which can, and usually does, dictate its own scheduling policies. Why then does the athletic department let Florida determine a schedule favorable to the Gators? Perhaps the department feels that Florida is a big enough name in football to do this. If so, then we can all bid a fond farewell to the "Middle of the Road" policy started by the University in 1952, a policy which saw the Buff playing teams of a comparable caliber and rolling up a 6-2-1 record in 1952. The athletic department did an excellent service to the University by choosing this road, and we certainly would not like to see the path abandoned.

The Maryland game has us completely confused. This game is being sponsored by the University; the University is handling all seating arrangements, and student books and Boosters books will be honored for University students. Just one fact disturbs us. This home game is not a home game. You can never stop thousands of Maryland fans from screaming support for their team by telling them it isn't really their home game. It is being played in Byrd Stadium. You tell us why we don't know, unless the athletic department lacks sufficient funds to pay the Griffith Stadium rental for that game.

One reason for this entire schedule would seem to be money, anyway. Normally, there is absolutely nothing wrong with wanting to get a couple of large money guarantees by playing schools such as Florida and Pennsylvania at their stadiums. But when this happens in a season which already sees five or six other road games, depending on what you want to call the Maryland mixup, we think it is completely unfair to the students.

Several student organizations around campus will be dealt a body blow this fall. The rapidly improving pep band will lose its biggest talking point for more money next year. And the cheerleaders, whose job it is to raise the spirit around here, may as well stay home all year. The Student Council's Homecoming Committee will have just one week end to work with, and hence their plans will be cramped.

The HATCHET realizes that little can be done about the schedule at this late date. Only the Maryland game and the aforementioned V.P.I. could be persuaded to play in Griffith Stadium this fall. But we, along with the student body sincerely hope that the athletic department tries its hardest to get us these two games, and to be fairer to Colonial fans in the future. We hopefully leave open the Letters to the Editors column of next week's paper for comment from the athletic department.

Wants School Song Learned

AN OPEN LETTER TO STUDENTS:

• A GREAT MANY students frequently complain about the lack of school spirit and traditions at the University and a few students infrequently try to do something about it. One of the most neglected of our university traditions is the Alma Mater. At infrequent instances when attempts are made to sing the Alma Mater, the results are hardly gratifying.

I feel that orientation of new students in this respect has been sadly lacking. A thorough introduction to the Alma Mater should

The next question is how to make the alma mater known to the students, who have already passed through orientation. The responsibility here should be in the hands of fraternity, sorority and other organization heads.

One of the foremost traditions at most other universities is the Alma Mater. Why not at George Washington? This could be the beginning of a long line of traditions. Perhaps, then, fewer persons, including students would think of the University as a night school degree and more would think of it as the fine University it is.

• "I HOPE HE won't have three heads!" said Marilyn Tate laughingly of her prospective blind date for the Apple Blossom Festival. The blonde, green-eyed Apple Blossom princess will have a gay week of parties, parades and dances at the Shenandoah Valley festival in Winchester, Va., next month as the University's representative.

Marilyn should have no worries about acting the part of a beauty queen. Last year she was Air Force ROTC queen and was a homecoming queen finalist. But this latest title was "all a mistake," said she when the result was announced.

She worked on the HATCHET for some time before a part-time job with educational services was added to an already long list of activities—Big Sis, Women's Coordinating Board, Delphi, and project chairman for Delta Gamma, to mention but a few. As a charter member of the AEROTC Flying Sponsors, Marilyn is now their public information officer.

Ice skating, swimming and golf are her favorite sports and now she has taken up sewing, she admits ruefully. (If I ever get this blouse finished it'll be a major accomplishment!) Music? No, not the piano or anything like that—she's just the "listening kind."

Marilyn is not majoring in activities—nor in beauty contests, for that matter. In June this scholarship student will get her B. A. in journalism. And after that she will probably go into reporting or perhaps public relations.

Say 'Yes' to Commie Query; Few Jest

by Joan Drew

• NOW THAT the State Department has cleared the way for the visit of the 11 editors of Soviet student and youth publications to this country, there should be some pretty interesting reading material from other campuses. This reporter hopes that (whether they be 35, plus or minus) the tour arranged for these Commies will not be limited to the Middle West and one or two of the Ivy League schools alone. It would be interesting to see them on this campus in the nation's capital.

"Are You A Commie?"

A sociology major at UCLA tried an interesting experiment a while ago. One day when he had nothing better to do, he stood at the door of the college bookstore and asked the customers, "Are you a Communist?" Eighty-nine out of 328 questioned answered "Yes." Later, reports the Associated Collegiate Press, 10 students returned to say they were just kidding.

The University of Minnesota, it seems, has had an Apathy party—a venerable political body of some years, but until fairly recently no one in the party could muster sufficient energy to write a platform. When inspiration finally came, President Art Skantz wrote the platform which, he says, was "conceived in indolence and born in lethargy." Among other things, the party platform promises not to:

- See all sides of an argument;
- Lend our support to athletic enterprises and such enterprises that might possibly be construed as active;
- Worry about aims, ideals, goals, objectives . . . group identification, social adjustment, points to consider, however, moreover, but, if and ands.

"Declines" Military Training

The military department at Louisiana State University was confounded and dumbfounded when a freshman declined its offer of compulsory military training. The "offer," of course, consists of a form explaining that two years of basic military training are required at LSU of all physically fit male students between the ages of 14 and 23. Replied the freshman:

"Thank you for your generous offer to let me join the ROTC at LSU. I assure you that I would deem it the greatest honor ever to come to me. After giving the matter deep consideration I have decided that it would be best if I declined your offer."

No action was taken by the red-faced military department. The he was a she.

This touching little story appeared in the Syracuse Orange.

"It was one of those warm-hearted events in everyday life. I was sitting in the Brown Derby the other night having a little snack . . . Just a few chocolate dipped oysters with pickle sauce. One of their Friday specialties. Anyway, I wanted to go get a pack of cigarettes, so I asked my friends to excuse me because I had to make a phone call. And there at the cashier's desk I saw him. Sam Slender, Western star. "Can I have your autograph, Mr. Slender?" I asked. "No," he said.

Forget Alma Mater

The illustrious Quiz Bowl kids of the same university, who have moved down twelve universities in the weekly College Quiz Bowl program Saturday nights over NBC, drew a blank on one question last week. Not one of them could repeat the second stanza of the University's alma mater, "Minnesota, Hail to Thee." (A propos of this, see this week's Letter to the Student Body.)

Foggy Bottom

by Hester Heale

• I MENTIONED LAST week that I have in my files a snapshot of Morris Babb, Jr., better known as Apollo, as of the Hillel Ball of Fire. Ladies, the photo is now quite valuable, and I hereby place it on sale for the reasonable sum of five dollars. So I can pay my Party dues. No citizen and student should be without a Party. Did you chaps realize that seventy-six percent of all political demonstrations in Europe are effected by students? It can be rather fun. We American students don't know what we're missing.

However, to get back to the Ball of Fire. In the words of Lobachevsky, it was sensational. Lee Maxfield's band made marvelous music, and practically the entire University was there... or anyway, a goodly cross-section... The Acadians present were a bit mixed-up, since prexy, Laurie Locke, and George Moser couldn't quite figure out who had a date with which ZTA. They straightened it out by switching frequently in the course of the evening. Another mixed-up Acacia was Howie Roberts, who instead of getting pinned, got "chained" to a certain Chi Omega.

The complaint was voiced by several of the ladies present that missed the good old days when the Apollo contest was hammed up. Time was when the contestants wore such appropriate garb as leopard-skins and togas... and the Sigma Nu's in particular providing a rare spectacle for the edification of the partying throngs; their candidate would make his entrance (in toga) on a white elephant, with a number of coeds (as vestal virgins or some such thing) strewn rose petals in his path. These taxes just don't have it.

To catch up on a little past news: The Phi Sigs threw a very gay post-Detective Story the night of Saturday the fifth, with invitations going to the east, Miss Kirkbride, and Dr. Faith. Present at the blasteroonie were Jim Biller with three (count 'em) blondes... making advances (lecherous) toward them were Joe Hince (who, incidentally, was the favorite Apollo candidate of a certain female Hatchet staffer) and many others. However, they turned out to be only Biller's muses, whom he'd brought to the party on a whim. Also there was Leeds Schellinger with DG Betty Cubberly; Steve Bauk with Chi O Connie Kelly; Tom Hand and Moonlite Gal Ruth Berryman; Chuck Forbes and Pi Phi Marilyn Stagner, and SAE boy actor-born vivant-raconteur, etc., Jack Thorne, with Kappa Lillian Menne.

SPE's report another success: Zulu Chiefs and loyal Foggy Bottoms gathered for the annual Nightshirt Shag which produced two engagement announcements: Lew Cassidy to Carmel Jones, ex-ZTA prexy; and Jim Shiftlett to Edna Compton of Cottage City, Maryland. Such famous personages as Tweedy, Swill, Humphroid, Eat-a-Egg, and Uphill wailed collectively till the walls of the Passion Pit shook with their larynx blasts... Tiger Whyte was the most popular with the bird-dogging set, and Ed Wright is still wanted on the phone. Following the festivities, one particularly hefty specimen was viewed at two in the A. M. strolling along G in his elongated Johanns.

News of our travelling coeds: Etta Ridgely, ADPI, was off for Princeton recently, for the Princeton version of a ball... which turned out to be anybody's version... Myra Little and Lou Bernard, Pi Phi, went up to West Point for the Hundredth night... KD Gwen Potts' cadet friend was in Washington for the week end, as was she. Who cares for Hundredth Night?... Betsy Reed, SK, is still at the University physically, but her hearts' in West Virginia.

A big housewarming party at Falls Church Saturday saw the KS brothers warming the apartment of brother Bernie Smith and wife Margie... the couple are expecting a KS pledge about May.

Money was flowing like champagne should flow at the Teke

Photogs Wanted

• WANTED: Photographers for the HATCHET. Equipment not necessary, experience helpful. Please notify Rolfe Baggett at the Delt House, EX. 3-9383 or after 6 p.m. at OV. 3-4778.

House Saturday night, at the annual Casino Party. Tekes were there from Illinois, Virginia, and Minnesota... to say nothing of G. W. Coach Bill Neal's wife walking away with a stuffed bear that resembled Bill in his Buff girdiron heyday. The Tekes hereby warn all Greeks that they will be at the IFC Sing in full force!

From the Delt House, somewhat tardy news of the pinning of Kappa Jeanie Barnes to Tom Smith. From the Delt House also comes news of an imminent orgy: the Bongo Ball. What is it? The Delt invite you to drop by and see...

Council Capers

by Connie Kelly

• "ENJOYMENT" was the keynote of the Student Council meeting last week.

In an informal discussion, Tom Brown told the members they had worked hard and well this year. They have functioned as a unit and have been highly cooperative. Now he feels that they should relax and really begin to enjoy their jobs; his suggestion was adopted unanimously.

After mentioning their goals and accomplishments, the Council turned to improvements for future years. Both the Publicity Chairman and the Freshman Director said that sub-committees would be advisable for their offices. Several of the members stated that future presidents of the Council should be familiar with the organization for at least one year before taking office, thereby giving continuity to the groups. These were only tentative suggestions, however, subject to further discussion.

Petitions for committees such as Homecoming will be publicized this year, so that the students will be aware of the candidates. Something similar to the plan for Student Council elections will be planned, in which the names of the candidates will be posted in front of the Union. The Council feels that this will be an impetus to greater participation in the various committees.

Soldier Gives Dance Views

by Lowell Swartzell

• I HAVE BEEN asked to report upon the American soldier's attitude toward dance. Since the American soldiers about me are for the most part graduates fresh from colleges throughout the nation, I feel that their attitude toward dance may coincide with yours. This attitude I find alarming.

To some the word "dance" conveys only a memory of a crepe paper-bedecked gymnasium where one went reluctantly because the occasion required the wearing of such a formal harness as a necktie and the purchase of one of those amazingly ephemeral corsages.

Others are familiar with the routine union of a long chorus line whose legs raise simultaneously, or alternately, or whenever they are supposed to. They call this dance, among other things.

Women Hoisted Meaninglessly Dance as entertainment is personified to many in Gene Kelly's curb hopping while wrapping himself around a lamp post in one of the Metro musicals. If the artistic merits of dance are considered, or even realized, it is an exercise in which women dressed in short gauze skirts are hoisted meaninglessly about by men in glove-fitting tights.

Modern Dance is probably called that, they think, because it is currently being performed, not because it is a particular form of dance. Such names as Jose Limon, Martha Graham, and even Agnes de Mille mean little or nothing.

Dance is Self-Expressive

Yet dance, whether it be ballet or burlesque, has always seemed to me the easiest of the art forms to comprehend and enjoy. Music, especially on its serious side, requires some awareness of the cosmos of composition in order to entertain. Art pre-supposes a certain knowledge of types and techniques to convey its purpose. But dance is self expressive—simply revealing itself in a series of movements. Collectively, these movements form a pattern which can be meaningful, expressive, and, if well done, entertaining.

So, why, if dance is easy to understand and enjoy, is its audience not better acquainted? Two reasons come to mind: first, certain misconceptions concerning Modern Dance exist, unfortunately. Some think of it as they do some schools of modern art in that it is abstract with an over emphasis on form rather than substance. True, there are dances choreographed for form alone, but these are not Modern Dance alone. A cakewalk or even a waltz performed with stylization are just as much Modern Dance. In fact, for our purpose of definition, any dance which breaks with classical or traditional forms in its technique and intent is Modern Dance.

Dance Out of New York

Secondly, the principal companies presenting Modern Dance are few and often limited to New York. Thus, the soldier and the student have not often had the opportunity to become familiar with the medium. This is unfortunate, for I feel certain that its imagination, theatricality and artistic integrity would favorably impress them. You will have the opportunity to enjoy Modern Dance when the Dance Production Groups present their annual Concert next week.

Inquiring Reporter Airs Distavor of Football Plan

• QUESTION: WHAT DO YOU think of the 1955 football schedule, which shows seven away games and two home games, one of which will be played at Maryland University?

Irving Kesser: "The football team is primarily for the student body, and the students should be given the chance to see them play more than once or twice. You can't build school spirit by reading scores in the newspapers."

Roy Barnard: "It imposes a hardship on the Homecoming Committee in that they are limited to one week end in which to hold the Homecoming Dance. Also, only one home game makes it hard to build a better University band and to increase student support of athletics."

Bev Alexander: "I'm particularly peeved by the Virginia and Maryland games. We played there last year. Why again? And Maryland's treatment of our cheerleaders last season was ridiculous. In fact, the whole school spirit setup and cheerleading system is hurt by this schedule."

Betsy Reed: "What's the sense of putting Boosters in Campus Combo, if we can only use Boosters twice in one season? It definitely hurts the Combo."

Bob Gray: "Disgusted."

Lud Greiner: "I'm all for it. Why, anyone knows the out of town parties are best by taste test, and we'll all be parched after travelling a couple of hundred miles each week. I can hardly wait."

"Pat Reed: "Why have a team at all? To make money out of town at other schools? Or to be a form of recreation for both spectator and player?"

Barry Deutschman: "Why even have student books? And our surprising school spirit last season will be gone."

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Today let us investigate a phenomenon of American college life called the student council. First of all, what is the student council? The answer is simple: the student council is a council of students.

Next, what does the student council do? Again the answer is simple: it meets.

Next, what goes on at the meetings? This question is rather more complicated than the others. Perhaps it can best be answered by reproducing here the minutes of a typical meeting of a typical student council.

Meeting scheduled for 8:30 p.m. at Student Union Building. Call to order 9:51 p.m. by Hunrath Sigafos, presiding. Motion to adjourn made by Louis Bicuspid, freshman representative. Motion ruled out of order by Hunrath Sigafos, presiding. Hunrath Sigafos called "old poop" by Louis Bicuspid, freshman representative. Seconded by Delores Wheatgerm, sophomore representative. Tabled by Hunrath Sigafos, presiding.

Minutes of last meeting read by Zelda Pope-Toledo, secretary. Motion to accept minutes made by Hunrath Sigafos, presiding. Motion defeated.

Treasurer's report not read because Rex Mercredi, treasurer, not present at meeting. Rex Mercredi, treasurer, impeached in absentia.

Motion made by Louis Bicuspid, freshman representative, to allow sale of hard liquor in school cafeteria. Seconded by Delores Wheatgerm, sophomore representative. Motion tabled by Hunrath Sigafos, old poop.

Motion made by Booth Fishery, fraternity representative, to permit parking in library. Motion referred to committee.

Motion made by Gladys Algae, junior representative, to allow attendance in pajamas and robes at first hour classes. Motion referred to committee.

Motion made by Elwood Feldspar, athletics representative, to conduct French Conversation classes in English. Motion referred to committee.

Motion made by Esme Plankton, sorority representative, to allow hypnosis during Rush Week. Motion referred to committee.

Motion made by Pierre Clemenceau, foreign exchange student, to conduct German Conversation classes in French. Motion referred to committee.

Motion made by Harriet Critter, ag campus representative, to allow faculty members above the rank of assistant professor to perform marriages. Motion referred to committee.

Observation made by Martha Involute, senior representative, that in her four years on student council every motion referred to committee was never heard of again. Miss Involute was tabled.

Motion made by Louis Bicuspid, freshman representative, to allow sale of hard liquor in Sociology I and II. Seconded by Delores Wheatgerm, sophomore representative. Motion tabled by Hunrath Sigafos, presiding crossly.

Refreshments served. Coffee, cake, Philip Morris Cigarettes. The following resolution adopted by acclamation:

"WHEREAS Philip Morris is milder, tastier, more exhilarating, and chock full of rare rich vintage tobaccos; and WHEREAS Philip Morris is contained in the patented Snap-Open pack which is the quickest, simplest, neatest container yet devised for cigarettes; and WHEREAS Philip Morris, the most commendable of smokes in the most admirable of wrappings, is available in both king-size and regular; therefore BE IT RESOLVED that it is the sense of this meeting that Philip Morris is far and away the best cigarette buy on this or any other campus."

Meeting adjourned with many a laugh and cheer at 9:58. Respectfully submitted,

Zelda Pope-Toledo, Secretary

IRC President Talks On Voice of America

• THE VOICE of Dorothy Drake, president of the University's International Relations Club, will be broadcast on April 25 over the Voice of America to people in fifteen countries in the Near East.

The name of this broadcast is "Let's Talk About Women" and its primary purpose is to inform the women in Eastern areas of the social and political influence exercised by American women's societies. It is designed also to give encouragement to groups of women carrying out local projects in these areas in such fields as community development, adult education and rural health.

The Voice of America chose representatives from two of America's active women organizations to gather all information which would be valuable in the formation of this broadcast. Lois Iffer of the Girl Scouts and Pat Tayne of the YWCA made a survey to obtain the material.

In order that a wider survey could be made, Miss Lauren Stickney, assistant director of English transcription in the Near East, selected one girl to represent American college women. Miss Drake, a senior and major in foreign affairs at the University, was chosen for this task.

Two weeks ago Miss Drake was asked to give a "bird's eye view" of her activities at the University when she, Miss Iffer and Miss Tayne made tape recordings of their individual surveys.

The tape is to be cut on a record and sent abroad for broadcasting in the following countries: Egypt, Lebanon, Jordan, Israel, Syria, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Iran, Turkey, Greece, Ceylon, India, Pakistan, Afghanistan and Nepal.

The questions which Miss Drake asked in her survey centered around these main points: "Are students at the University interested in foreign affairs?" and "What purpose does the I.R.C. serve the American students?"

When asked what she thought of the program, Miss Drake replied, "I find it to be important and interesting because it will reach a great many people and give them an opportunity to hear first hand about the American way of life and to draw their own conclusions."

Miss Drake also stated that there is obviously a great interest in, foreign affairs among University students. It is because of this apparent interest that there are possibilities that in the near future tours can be arranged which would take students through the Voice of America Building here in Washington which is located on Independence Avenue.

University Tries Its New Color Scheme

by Alva Smith

• STUDENTS GOING to classes in the basement of Government last Tuesday were startled to find workmen applying a coat of what looked like gray paint to the base of the standard "Marvin Green" walls.

Could it be that the University was going to change its uniform color scheme?

Would there be a trend away from the verdant hue with which the whole University is painted, from the President's Office to the reading rooms of the library? Would the bases of all walls be painted gray to hide the scuff marks of the people's shoes?

All such thoughts were banished Friday when the same walls were returned to the same green, just a bit darker where the "gray" had been, but the question remained of why the painting had been done in the first place.

It turns out that instead of being the beginning of a long range, revolutionary color change, it was nothing more than an experiment to put a sealer on the walls, the idea being that, perhaps the sealer would help keep out dirt and at the same time make the walls washable. Furthermore, the paint was green, or so the Business Office swears fervently, perhaps a "grayish green," perhaps looking a little more gray because of the artificial light, but still very definitely green.

Anyway, the experiment was deemed a failure and the walls were painted over in the "presidential green" that Dr. Cloyd H. Marvin himself mixed a number of years ago.

Marksman Compete In Intercollegiates

• SATURDAY THE WOMEN'S Rifle team will compete in the National Intercollegiate Rifle Championship Sectionals at the Maryland University range. Competition will be in standing, kneeling and prone positions against the top teams in the country.

In a closely contested match, a group of green sharpshooters bowed to the women's team of Drexel Institute of Technology on their range in Philadelphia Saturday. The score was 490-487, the outcome not being certain until the last girl had fired.

It was the first collegiate shoulder to shoulder match for the G. W. sharpshooters who fired against an undefeated string of ten seasoned Drexel marksmen. The schools have alternately met on their home ranges, and the host team has enjoyed a victory each time.

Verdell Algee, rifle team president, led G. W. sharpshooters with a score of 99. She was backed by Helen Skopic, manager, 98; Nan Cisney, 98; Lou Bernard, captain, 96; and Betty Baker, 96.

"The girls performed almost in the peak of perfection," said Coach Helen Harris. "Their score was only one point lower than the Women's Varsity top score for the season. It is unusual for an inexperienced team to stand up so well under the strain of its first shoulder to shoulder competition."

The WRA sponsored two-day badminton tournament will get under way at 7:30 p.m. March 23. This competition, open to all women enrolled in the University, will be held in the gymnasium. Singles and doubles matches will be played in the tournament, with preliminaries being held on the 23rd and finals on the 24th.

All women interested may sign up for the tourney by March 17 on posters which have been placed in Strong Hall, the Student Union and the Physical Education building. All playing equipment is provided by the university. Entrants are required only to wear their own sneakers.

Two WRA delegates and one advisor will attend the national convention of the American Federation of College Women at Smith College in Northampton, Massachusetts. The convention, which is held every two years, will run from March 29 to April 2.

Badminton results from the Sports Day held March 5 show Hood College in the top position, followed by G. W. and Goucher. The University was represented by Lydia Eccles, Carol Wondrack, Helen Niles and Joan Calvert.

Coed Bowling On Saturday

• HERE IT IS! Following the fall's successful Scotch Foursome golf tourney, the Co-ed Athletic Board is holding its co-ed Bowling Tournament Saturday at the YMCA, 18th and G Street, from 10-12 noon.

While board members state that it is not necessarily a date function, couples will be welcomed.

All-U Follies

• STUDENTS INTERESTED in trying out for the All-University Variety Show cast or technical crew are invited to sign up for auditions at the Student Activities Office.

For further information contact Mrs. Ethel Casey Schreiner or Ed Ferero at the University Drama Office, ST. 3-0250, ext. 472.

Those who sign up without partners should indicate this in order to have pairings arranged.

Entrants may sign up at the Student Activities Office in the Student Union annex, until Thursday night. A fee of fifty cents per two games will be collected by Doris Kirby, WRA Bowling Manager, at the alleys. This fee covers use of the alleys and tips for the pin-boys.

Awards will be given to the winning couples.

'MURAL

Just a reminder that all team entries for spring sports should be turned in to Mr. DeAngelis office no later than Friday of this week. Softball will commence in two weeks. Volleyball and badminton are also scheduled to start soon. The new uniforms will add much color to these spring sports. The intramural department is quite proud of these attractive uniforms and hope they will be taken care of.

Hats off to: The officials, scorers, and timers for this years basketball games. Without their help the 'mural program would not succeed: Buzz Ciriello and Bill Hix for officiating the playoff games: the intramural department for the uniforms which add much color and uniformity to the various sports: a special note of thanks to Chis McAvoy and Ed Jaffee who took charge of the entire basketball program.

At this point the race for the intramural cup is hot and heavy. Phi Sigma Kappa is currently leading the way followed closely by the Deltas, SAE, Phi Alpha, and Sigma Chi in that order. All five of these fraternities are within seventy-five points of each other. The race for the cup has never been quite so close. Phi Sig, a Johnny come lately in intramural prowess, seem to be making an all out bid for the cup. Last year's cup winner, Phi Alpha, has not yet made its challenge but usually does well in spring sports, well enough to take the cup for the last two years. Whoever wins the cup can be sure that their achievement is quite an accomplishment.

Tournament Scores:

The Jersians 42—Sigma Chi 38
Phi Alpha 57—Delta Theta Phi 26

only hope that they get a few breaks this fall. Lady Luck can't be worse than she was in 1954.

Some distressing news has come to us from the Athletic Department. It concerns the football schedule for 1955. Other sections of this issue deal with this problem. In a few weeks we shall offer our opinion on the matter.

INTRAMURALS—Few people may realize it, but Professor "Vinnie" DeAngelis is doing a great job as Director of Intramurals.

This year has seen many improvements. Most notable are the Handbooks, the new uniforms, and the split sections for some events. Make no mistake about it, the Intramural Program here at the University is outstanding in many ways.

TRACK—All outward indications point to the fact that the "Noble Experiment" is dying. It seems that there will be no track team this spring. THE HATCHET campaigned long and hard for a cinder squad. That dream was realized two years ago thanks to the men in the Athletic Department.

The response to the team has been poor on the students' part. It appears that track, like boxing and wrestling at other colleges, will pass from the University sports scene.

Perhaps someday the right combination of coaching, facilities, and interest will jell and the University will then have a fine track team. Perhaps is a big word, however.

MISCELLANY—The basketball team will be honored tomorrow at 12:15. The team members will elect the most valuable player... The Student Council's Dance this week promises to be Irish in tone... It's this Thursday at the Student Club, second floor of Union... Discount movie tickets are available in the Student Activities Office... The picture is THE LONG GRAY LINE... Big savings are in store for all.

Boxing Tourney Slated Thursday

by John Bains

• BOXING THIS Thursday and Friday night. Due to the large turnout last year two nights have been set aside this week. Today is the deadline for entries.

All boxers will be matched by weight and previous experience, if any. The judges and referee will determine the winner and pick the outstanding boxer. Bob Willson, faculty adviser to the HATCHET will referee.

Phi Alpha and The Jersians battled for the All University basketball title Monday night. Unfortunately we don't have the results to print. Round Robin Results: The Jersians upset highly touted Sigma Chi 42-38. Lead by Joe Boland, Joe Rosania, and Jack Kesock the Jersians lead most of the way hitting on 12 of 18 foul shots. Phi Alpha drubbed Delta Theta Phi 57-26 to insure a match against their old nemesis Sigma Chi. Marv Rosenblatt was high with 16 points in his teams victory. The Jersians eliminated Delta Theta Phi from tourney play 57-37. It was a close game until late in the fourth period when a flurry of baskets by Kesock and Boland sewed up the second tourney victory for the Jersians. The game of the day was between Phi Alpha and Sigma Chi.

The Alphans took an early 10-2 lead and never were behind as they downed the Sigs, 48-40. However, the Sigs twice tied the score, but they never had the needed umph to take control. The game was the highlight of 'mural basketball this year and was officiated by National Athletic Association Basketball Officials. Irv Salamy played his best game for the Alphans rebounding, sinking set shots and playmaking to near perfection. Howie Frushtick controlled the backboards as Jay Grosfeld and Marv Rosenblatt set up Salamy for his deadly set shot.

Rudin's Ramblings

by Jim Rudin

• BASKETBALL—While basketball may not be the most pleasant thing to mention these days, a few facts may be interesting. . . In the two clashes with West Virginia this year, the Buff outscored the Friends of Hundley from the floor in both tilts. . . All Colonial losses this season came on the road. . . The G Streeters have not lost a home game since March, 1953. . . In the last two seasons the Buff have won 47 of 56 games for a .839 percentage. . . Many fans feel that the court Colonials hit their peak against Maryland in Uline's Arena back in January. . . In the last two seasons the Reinhart Legion has competed in six tournaments. . . The Buff finished first in four, were runners-up in the other two.

We were not surprised to see West Virginia lose to LaSalle. We figured that Hundley and his Playmates would give the defending national champions a battle for part of the game. The half time score was 40-33 in favor of the Explorers, but the final tally read 95-61 with the Gola Athletic Club out in front. The Hot Rod got only a single point in the second half.

FOOTBALL—The Grid Colonials had a red hot scrimmage last Saturday. For those who may be unaware, the football team is taking its "spring" practice now.

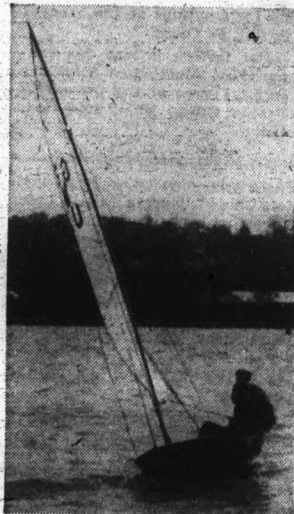

Once again the Buff should have a good team on paper. We

Sailing Team Holds Practice At Buzzard Pt.

• MORE THAN THIRTY sailors, many of them out for the first time, hauled up the sails Sunday for a day on the Potomac.

Sunday marked the official opening of the spring training sessions which will be held by the Sailing Club each Sunday at the Buzzard Point boatyard. The program is designed to teach new and old sailors to sail. The University maintains ten "Tempest" class boats at the boatyard. Sessions will include shore training, fundamentals of sailing and racing tactics for advanced skippers.

ties for advanced skippers.

A bright sun and high wind provided perfect sailing conditions for the opening session, under the direction of Betty Barry, Vice-Commandore.

The Sailing team will hold its regular meeting at 8 p.m. tonight at the SAE house. Transportation will be available at 7:30 from the Student Union Annex.

Sunday's workout for the sailing team was in preparation for the Silver Beer Mug Regatta at Princeton March 26. Anyone interested in sailing can contact Bernie Goodrich at DE 2-4345 or Betty Barry in Strong Hall.

Early Diamond Trials Show Bright Outlook

By Roger Spitzer

• NO SOONER WAS the last ball thrown through the hoop in the Southern Conference playoffs than the first baseball enthusiasts pulled out their gloves and took to the diamond. And with these early enthusiasts goes a bright pre-season outlook for another fine baseball season.

The Colonials, on the tail end of an outstanding basketball year, are looking forward to an equally smash hit season on the diamond. Despite the loss of several key players the Buff have a well rounded squad and nucleus for a winning team. Bob Fredericks, last season's top pitcher and a leading hurler in the area will not be back on the hill for the Colonials; the ever-reliable and outstanding Steve Korcheck, one of the better catchers of the year and now a product of the Washington Nats' farm system, will be missed sorely behind the plate; and Paul Stroup, last year's first baseman, will not be back in the lineup for the coming year. However, even with these losses, G. W. has a good outlook.

Especially in the hurling department, the Colonials are well set. With Steve Bauk and Roger Turner, throwing portside and Stan Walawac, Roscoe Sweeney, and Voris Conrad, the Buff are well set both in depth and ability for the coming year. John Nedrow, another fine hurling prospect who was being counted on for support on the mound, is now a doubtful item as a pitcher because of a bad arm. However, Nedrow will in all probability be in the outfield along with Bo Austin and Skinny Saffer. Bob Reed, pint sized centerfielder who was an outstanding player last year, is another question mark because of injuries. Dick Giesler is a leading candidate for catcher, while Jim Hill will probably be on third base for the Colonials; Jerry Paparella, Mickey Meinke and Frank Kovacs have the inside track on the key-stone positions — Paparella at shortstop and Kovacs or Meinke at second.

Joe Rosania, a shortstop, and Cilento, another infielder, are up from last year's freshman squad and are very much in the running for starting berths. Very few positions are nailed down at this early date and in fact most of them are wide open.

The overall picture seems to be one of a little less hitting strength, due to the loss of the Colonials' big bat in Steve Korcheck, than is usually desirable. Good pitching and a steady infield, however, would seem to point to a successful season.
